The economy to continue to recover over the coming quarters. We are forecasting real GDP growth to come in at 6.9 per cent in 2017-18.

The Fitch Group company, noted that the negative effects from the demonetisation measure is already wearing off, and the Indian economy will likely benefit from positive demographic trends, greater external stability (due to improved terms of trade from low oil prices), and continued reforms that should help to improve the country's admittedly poor business environment.

The report, however, noted that the public banking sector is still weak and plagued with mounting non-performing assets, and it is likely to weigh on India's growth potential.

Despite the Reserve Bank of India's efforts to clean up these bad loans, these will likely take some time to be worked through the system, and therefore, credit allocation to the productive sectors of the economy is likely to be negatively affected.

Scientists develop world's sharpest laser with a linewidth of only 10 mHz, 04 July 2017

A team of scientists have developed the world's sharpest laser costing 44 million euros. Named as 'Super Laser', it is 10 times more powerful than any other on the planet and has the potential to revolutionize engineering in aeronautics, power and automotive industries.

This laser was developed within the scope of a nearly 10-year-long joint project with researchers from Physikalisch Technische Bundesanstalt (PTB) and JILA, a joint institute of the National Institute of Standards and Technology and the University of Colorado Boulder in the US.

Key Highlights

- Theoretically, laser light has only one colour, frequency or wavelength. However, there is always a certain linewidth. This laser with a linewidth of only 10 miliHertz (mHz) is closer to the ideal laser than ever before.

Narendra Modi became the first Indian Prime Minister to visit Israel in 70 years

✎ It has an average power output of 1000 watts which is a benchmark in sustained high energy pulses and is far greater than the world's other high-power beams in Osaka and Texas.

✎ This laser, with record-breaking precision, can help make optical atomic clocks more precise as well as can test Einstein's theory of relativity.

India successfully test-fires short range surface-to-air missile, 04 July 2017

India successfully test-fired indigenously developed quick reaction surface-to-air missile (QR-SAM) off the Odisha coast. This short range missile with a strike range of 25 to 30 km was test fired from a truck-mounted canister launcher from the Integrated Test Range at Chandipur.

It was the second developmental trial of the state-of-the-art missile with an aerial target. The first developmental trial of the missile was carried out on 4 June 2017 from the same base. Designed to be a quick reaction missile, it is capable of engaging multiple targets and involves an all-weather weapon system capable of tracking and firing.

It was developed by the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) and other establishments.

North Korea confirms successful test-firing of ballistic missile, 04 July 2017

North Korea claimed that it successfully test-fired its first intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) 'Hwasong -14'.

The Hwasong-14 missile was fired from North Pyongan province and it reached an altitude of 2,802 km and flew 933 km for about 40 minutes before hitting a target in the East Sea. The US military characterised it as a "land-based, intermediate-range" missile. The North American Aerospace Defence Command (NORAD) assessed that the missile launch from North Korea did not pose a threat to North America.

Pak successfully test fires short-range ballistic missile Nasr, 06 July 2017

Pakistan successfully test fired short-range surface-to-surface ballistic missile Nasr, which army chief Gen Qamar Javed Bajwa said has put "cold water" on Indian military's "Cold Start" doctrine.

Nasr is a high-precision weapon system with the ability to be deployed quickly, the army said.

Pakistan Army has conducted a series of training launches and tests during the current week for validation of new technical parameters of NASR with enhanced range from 60-70 kilometres and flight maneuverability.

Cold Start is a military doctrine developed by the Indian Armed Forces for use in a likely war with Pakistan.

CERN Physicists Find a Particle with a Double Dose of Charm, 07 July 2017

Physicists have discovered a particle that is doubly charming. Researchers reported that in debris flying out from the collisions of protons at the CERN particle physics laboratory outside Geneva, they had spotted a particle that has long been predicted but not detected until now.

The new particle, awkwardly known as Xi-cc++ (pronounced ka-sigh-see-see-plus-plus), could provide new insight into how tiny, whimsically named particles known as quarks, the building blocks of protons and neutrons, interact with each other.

ISRO develops ship borne transportable antenna terminal, 12 July 2017

Space agency ISRO's Telemetry, Tracking and Command Network ISTRAC has designed and developed a Ship Borne Transportable (SBT) Antenna Terminal to meet the launch vehicle telemetry tracking and command requirements.

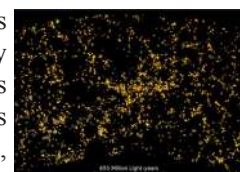

The 4.6 meter Ship Borne Antenna System has been built indigenously, fulfilling all specifications and has established in-house capability for meeting future requirements.

It has also improved the operational reliability due to in-house know-how of the system engineering, besides reducing the cost considerably.

The city-based ISTRAC provides tracking support for all satellite and launch vehicle missions of ISRO and also provides space operations support for Deep Space Missions.

Indian scientists discover new supercluster of galaxies, call it Saraswati, 14 July 2017

FMCG major ITC became the fourth Indian company to cross market capitalisation of ₹4 trillion

This is one of the largest known structures in the neighbourhood of the universe, 4,000 million light-years away from Earth and roughly more than 10 billion years old, IUCAA said.

Its mass extends over the scale of 600 million light years, it said. Scientists of this institute were also involved in the path-breaking discovery of gravitational waves last year.

US Navy tests world's first Laser Weapons System, 19 July 2017

United States Navy successfully tested the world's first-ever active Laser Weapons System (LaWS).

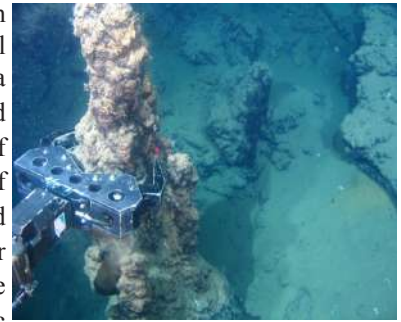

In the test, the LaWS deployed aboard the USS Ponce amphibious transport ship was able to destroy a drone in flight and moving targets on the Persian Gulf.

USS Ponce is first ship in the world to be deployed with such advanced weapons system.

The system has special materials that release photons at the speed of light. It silently hits the target, burning it to a temperature of thousands of degrees. It can even target a single component of an enemy target and disable or destroy it as necessary. Each strike of the system travels 50,000 times the speed of an incoming ICBM (Intercontinental Ballistic Missile).

GSI discovers millions of tonnes of precious metals and minerals in Indian waters, 20 July 2017

Scientists from the Geological Survey of India (GSI) have discovered the presence of millions of tonnes of precious metals and minerals deep under the waters within the Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ) of peninsular India.

They have confirmed the presence of large amount of lime mud, phosphate-rich and calcareous sediments, hydrocarbons, metalliferous deposits and micronodules. They believe that deeper and more extensive exploration could lead to a larger treasure trove.

The presence of lime mud, phosphate-rich sediments was discovered off Karwar, Mangaluru and Chennai coasts, gas hydrate in the channel-levee system of Mannar Basin off the Tamil Nadu coast, micro-manganese nodules around Lakshadweep Sea and cobalt-bearing ferro-manganese crust from the Andaman Sea.

Background

GSI for first time had identified huge presence of marine resources off Mangaluru, Mannar Basin, Chennai, Andaman and Nicobar Islands and around Lakshadweep in early 2014. After three years of exploration, it had generated 181,025 square kilometres of high-resolution seabed morphological data and established the occurrence of more than 10,000 million tonnes of lime mud within the EEZ of India.

GST had carried out the 'High Resolution Seabed Mapping and Natural Resource Evaluation' using three state-of-the-art research vessels — Samudra Ratnakar, Samudra Kaustabh and Samudra Saudikama. The main objective of the survey was to identify potential zones of favourable mineralisation and evaluate marine mineral resources.

Arunachal Pradesh celebrated 'Dree festival'

Marking the 25th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries, Prime Minister Narendra Modi of India visited Israel from 4-6 July 2017 at the invitation of Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu of Israel. This historic first-ever visit by an Indian Prime Minister to Israel solidified the enduring friendship between their peoples and raised the bilateral relationship to that of a strategic partnership.

Noting that they represent two cradles of civilizations that have nurtured their respective heritages over the centuries, the two leaders affirmed their intention to build a broad-based relationship that will realise the full potential of their association. In doing so, they recognized that throughout history, the Jewish Communities have always had a home in India and have been treated with warmth and respect.

Reviewing the development of the relationship after a quarter century of diplomatic ties, the two leaders agreed on initiatives and policies that would reflect the goals and aspirations of both nations and widen their collaborative endeavours in a broad range of areas. They visualized that the two countries will become close partners in development, technology, innovation, entrepreneurship, defence and security.

Recognizing its centrality for development, India and Israel agreed to establish a "Strategic Partnership in Water and Agriculture". This will focus on water conservation, wastewater treatment and its reuse for agriculture, desalination, water utility reforms, and the cleaning of the Ganges and other rivers using advanced water technologies.

It will also include the reinforcement and expansion of the existing Centres of Excellence (COE) under the stewardship of the Israeli Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MASHAV) and the Ministry of Agriculture of India to promote commercially viable business models involving Farmer Producer Organizations (FPOs); the provision of quality planting material; and the transfer of post-harvest technical know-how and market linkages involving the private sector through PPP, B2B & other models.

The two leaders also agreed on the establishment of a Joint Working Group to steer this Partnership. The two Prime Ministers noted the importance of realizing the full potential of bilateral trade and investment.

They tasked the India-Israel CEO Forum to come up with early recommendations in this regard. Both leaders underlined the need to boost bilateral cooperation in innovation and entrepreneurship and called for greater collaboration in the field of start-ups.

Recognizing the importance of facilitating movement of businessmen and women, India and Israel underlined their expectation that the granting of multiple entry visas to business people for up to five years will encourage greater economic and commercial exchanges.

The two Prime Ministers agreed that negotiations would be conducted on an agreement for the Protection of Investments in order to encourage bilateral investments from both sides.

The two Prime Ministers welcomed the conclusion of the Memorandum of Understanding for establishing the India-Israel Industrial R&D and Innovation Fund (I4F) by the Department of Science and Technology, India and the National Authority for Technological Innovation, Israel with a contribution of US$ 20 million from each side.

This MoU will play a seminal role in enabling Indian and Israeli enterprises to undertake joint R&D projects leading to development of innovative technologies and products that have potential for commercial application.

Recognising the importance of fostering wide ranging knowledge-business partnership for industries, R&D institutions and government agencies from both countries, Israel warmly welcomed India's offer to be the "Partner Country" for the annual Technology Summit to be held in India in 2018.

Both leaders welcomed the ongoing cooperation between the Israel Space Agency (ISA) and the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO). They expressed satisfaction over the signing of three MoUs and Plan of Cooperation in the areas of Cooperation in Atomic Clocks; GEO-LEO Optical Link; Academic collaboration and Electric propulsion for small satellites which would further enhance cooperation between the two countries.

India and Israel are committed to promote security and stability in cyberspace on both the governmental and private levels. The Prime Ministers emphasized the importance of enhanced dialogue between their national cyber authorities and expressed their commitment to expand and accelerate their cooperation in this sphere including laying a mutual roadmap for its implementation.

Both sides also recognise the value of enhancing and further institutionalising their broad-based cooperation on cyber issues through a Framework for cooperation in the area of cyber security. Recognizing that terrorism poses a grave threat to global peace and stability, the two Prime Ministers reiterated their strong commitment to combat it in all its forms and manifestations. They stressed that there can be no justification for acts of terror on any grounds whatsoever.

The leaders asserted that strong measures should be taken against terrorists, terror organizations, their networks and all those who encourage, support and finance terrorism, or provide sanctuary to terrorists and terror groups. They also underscored the need to ensure that terrorist organizations do not get access to any WMD or technologies. The 10th India-Jordan Morocco Trade and Economic Joint Committee (TEJC) Meeting held in New Delhi

World Population Day, which seeks to focus attention on the urgency and importance of population issues, was established by the then-Governing Council of the United Nations Development Programme in 1989, an outgrowth of the interest generated by the Day of Five Billion, which was observed on 11 July 1987.

By resolution 45/216 of December 1990, the United Nations General Assembly decided to continue observing World Population Day to enhance awareness of population issues, including their relations to the environment and development. The Day was first marked on 11 July 1990 in more than 90 countries. Since then, a number of UNFPA country offices and other organizations and institutions commemorate World Population Day, in partnership with governments and civil society.

Observed on: 11 July

This year's Theme: Family Planning- Empowering People, Developing Nations

As the world celebrates World Population Day, India reflects on its population woes. The second most populous country in the world is set to surpass China as the most populous country by 2024.

According to estimates, the drop in India's population will only come around 2050.

Although India can boast of the world's largest young workforce and the economic growth potential therein, the problems are huge and daunting.

According to the latest data of April 2015 from World Bank, India's population stands at 1.31 billion.

It is only behind China which has a population of 1.37 billion according to the same data. "Mission Parivar Vikas will focus on 146 high fertility districts in 7 states with high TFR.

Under this, specific targeted initiatives shall be taken for population stabilisation through better services delivery".

This was stated by J P Nadda, Union Minister of Health and Family Welfare at a function organised by Jansankhya Sthirita Kosh (JSK) to mark the World Population Day.

Nadda stated that Mission Parivar Vikas is a new initiative conceived by the Ministry with a strategic focus on improving access through provision of services, promotional schemes, commodity security, capacity building, enabling environment and intensive monitoring.

Nadda congratulated the team for undertaking micro-planning for these districts and developing need-based programmes to address TFR.

The Health Minister also advised the officials to undertake half yearly review of the programme and correlate the achievements with time to gauge whether the programme is moving in the right direction or not.

He stated that "We have enhanced the basket of contraceptive choices to meet the changing needs of people and have taken steps to ensure quality assured services and commodities are delivered to the last-mile consumers in both rural and urban areas."

During the event, J P Nadda introduced the new injectable in the public health system under the "Antara" program and launched a new software – Family Planning Logistics Management Information System (FP-LMIS) – designed to provide robust information on the demand and distribution of contraceptives to health facilities and ASHAs to strengthen supply chain management.

As a part of the new communications campaign linked to the rollout, the Health Minister also launched a new consumer friendly website on family planning and a 52 week radio show for couples to discuss issues related to marriage and family planning, which will be aired across the country.

The Health Minister further highlighted the life cycle approach of the Ministry and stated that a continuum of care approach has been adopted by the Ministry with the articulation of 'Strategic approach to Reproductive Maternal, Newborn, Child and Adolescent health (RMNCH+A), bringing focus on all the life stages.

Anupriya Patel, Minister of State (HFW), said that population dynamics have a significant influence on sustainable development.

The changes in population growth rates and age structures are closely linked to national and global developmental challenges and their solutions.

She further stated that the issue of population stabilization is so gigantic in its proportion that the government alone cannot address the issue and thus the collective involvement of NGOs, private sector and corporate sector shall play a pivotal role.

J P Nadda also gave away awards to the winners of the painting competition organised by Jansankhya Sthirita Kosh to create awareness regarding family stabilisation among young children.

What is PCA actually?

PCA norms allow the regulator to place certain restrictions such as halting branch expansion and stopping dividend payment.

It can even cap a bank's lending limit to one entity or sector.

Other corrective actions that can be imposed on banks include special audit, restructuring operations and activation of the recovery plan.

Banks' promoters can be asked to bring in new management, too.

The RBI can also supersede the bank's board, under PCA.

The provisions of the revised PCA framework effective April 1, 2017, based on the financials of the banks for the year ended March 31, 2017.

The framework will be reviewed after three years.

When is PCA invoked?

The PCA is invoked when certain risk thresholds are breached.

There are three risk thresholds which are based on certain levels of asset quality, profitability, capital and the like.

The third such threshold, which is maximum tolerance limit, sets net NPA at over 12 per cent and negative return on assets for four consecutive years.

Here are the implications that could arise from this move:-

Many more to follow

Clearly, the rising NPAs, lower credit and decreasing profitability have put PSBs in a harsh spot.

There are half a dozen PSBs that fall under the PAC.

These banks will have to do restricted lending in order to conserve its capital, which is drying up very fast because of NPA provisioning.

Many will focus on fee-based income or transaction banking where capital is not required.

It is not a good news as PSBs control two third of the banking in terms of advances and deposits.

Government is on pressure to pump more and more capital

The act of RBI bringing PAC will jolt these PSBs credit rating and also affect their ability to raise capital from the market.

The government has limited resources from the budget whom it should provide capital.

In the last two years, the government had allocated Rs 25 crore each and the capital for the next two year is pegged at Rs 10,000 crore each.

Though finance minister Arun Jaitley has said the government will infuse more if required, there is no announcement so far.

The divestment route is also not the option as the valuations of PSBs is at rock bottom.

Accumulations and Mergers

Most of the PSBs that are falling under PAC are small and mid -sized banks with the exception of IDBI Bank.

These banks are now a good candidate for the merger as they government is very keen on pushing consolidation amongst the PSBs.

There has been hindrance in the past but the current NDA government looks more serious.

The SBI merger with associate banks was a bold one as five banks of the size of private sector ICICI Bank were merged with the parent.

Private sector to gain market share

The current stalemate at the PSBs is offering a big opportunity for private sector to gain market share in retail as well as corporate lending.

The private sector banks have a very comfortable capital adequacy ratio, which offers a big opportunity to them to lend.

In fact, the market share of private banks remained at 14-15 per cent in the advances and deposits for a long time, but now many of these banks have the scale and also the products to expand in both retail and corporate lending.

Q.1.5. Read the following passage carefully and answer the given questions.

The Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) has rolled out a major scheme for strengthening of Food Testing Infrastructure in the country. Government is set to upgrade food testing laboratories at an estimated cost of Rs. 482 crore. The Empowered committee constituted for implementing this scheme held its first meeting in November which was chaired by Chairperson, FSSAI. Proposals from 7 States/UTs were considered for strengthening their food Testing infrastructure.

Two proposals, from Chandigarh (Punjab) and Calicut (Kerala), were approved in principle. The other States were requested to revise and resubmit their proposals according to the scheme guidelines with mentorship support from FSSAI. The Committee also approved the proposal for strengthening the Referral Food Laboratory at Central Food Technology Research Institute (CFTRI) through provision of state-of-the-art equipment and facilities. Introduction of these equipment facilities would significantly enhance the testing capability of CFTRI for adulteration of honey and pesticide and antibiotic residues in food samples.

Under this scheme, 45 State/UT Food Testing labs, 14 Referral Food Testing labs will be upgraded to enable them to obtain NABL accreditation. 62 Mobile Testing labs will also be established across all States/UTs. There are currently 4 Mobile food Testing labs in Punjab, Gujarat, Kerala and Tamil Nadu, which will serve as a model for these Mobile Testing labs.

Q.11.15. Read the following passage carefully and answer the given questions.

We have become quite accustomed to brands in our lives. Companies such as Apple Inc., Google Inc., Coca-Cola Co., and Toyota Motor Corp. are four of the most valuable brands in the world. (D) The most successful companies spend considerable time, energy, and money managing their brands. Why do they do so? Because it is economically beneficial for them.

As they build their brand image in customers' minds, they are able to have a more loyal customer base willing to pay extra for their products and/or buy more of their products. They recognize that to maintain and grow their customer bases most effectively, they should carefully nurture positive consumer perceptions of their products or services and correct negative misperceptions.

For many years, Google knew it had a great Internet search engine, yet never tried to manage the brand. (D) Only later did it realize that its brand was one of the most valuable assets. Users would opt to do web searches on Google over other search engines simply because it was Google, never even exploring whether searches on Bing or Yahoo or Baidu would yield better or faster results. They had become brand-loyal. This provides value for Google as it is able to very successfully sell its traffic to advertisers.

Similar to companies, nations have brand images of their own. Would nations' economies similarly prosper if they adopted similar "brand" strategies?

Branding consultancies have developed methods to estimate the value of global product brands and regularly publish rankings based on those estimates.

- Q.11 How does brand loyalty provide value for Google?
- (A) As it is able to successfully sell its traffic to advertisers.
  - (B) As it is able to successfully launch its schemes.

- Q.13 Who had become brand loyal?
- (A) Users                      (B) Brands
  - (C) Companies                (D) Localities
- Q.14 Why do the most valuable brands build their brand image in customers' minds?
- (A) They are able to have a more loyal customer base willing to pay extra for their products.
  - (B) A more loyal customer buy more of their products.

  - (D) None of the above
- Q.15 How do the most valuable brands recognize to maintain and grow their customer bases most effectively?
- (A) They should carefully nurture positive consumer perceptions of their products or services
  - (B) They should carefully correct negative misperceptions
  - (C) They should carefully sell their new themes throughout the world.
  - (D) Both (A) and (B)

Q.16.20 Read the following passage carefully and answer the given questions.

The Indian Space Research Organisation (Isro) has started conducting tests for its ambitious Chandrayaan-2 mission at its facility, where simulated lunar craters have been created for landing mission, Isro chairman said.

According to Kumar, several craters, resembling the terrain of the Moon, have been created on the ground at the facility to test instruments and sensors on the lander of Chandrayaan-2. "We are doing some tests with regard to the Moon landing mission of Chandrayaan-2. For that, an aircraft carrying some of the instruments is being flown over this simulated area at our facility in Challakere," Kumar said.

"We have created some craters there. These tests are part of our 'hazard avoidance and landing' exercise. The lander is supposed to come down and land. We have to make sure that it lands at a place which does not have too much of slope. Otherwise, one of the legs of the lander would stuck in a crater," Kumar said.

As per Isro website, Chandrayaan-2, India's second mission to the Moon, is an advanced version of the previous Chandrayaan-1 mission. It consists of an orbiter, lander and rover configuration. The orbiter with scientific payloads will orbit around the Moon. The lander will soft-land on the Moon at a specified site and deploy the rover. The scientific payloads onboard the orbiter, lander and rover are expected to perform mineralogical and elemental studies of the lunar surface.

In the recent past, Kumar had indicated that Chandrayaan-2 would be launched tentatively between 2017 and 2018. "There will be instruments on the lander. To make sure that these instruments work when it lands on the Moon, we are doing some simulations and that is one of the activities going on at Challakere" Kumar, who also serves as the Secretary in the Department of Space and Chairman of Space Commission, said "Tests are also going on to check the engines which provide required thrust to the lander in order to bring down its velocity to compensate the lunar gravity during the landing," Kumar added. He was in the city to attend a function for giving away 'Shri Hari Om Ashram Prerit Dr. Vikram Sarabhai Research Awards-2015' and 'PRL Award-2015'.

- (C) The lander will soft-land on the Universe at a specified site
- (D) The lander will soft-land on the pluto at a specified site

Q.21.25 Read the following passage carefully and answer the given questions.

The GRAPES-3 experiment is a special telescope-array to detect muons from cosmic ray showers. The experiment has detected a surge in muon intensity correlated with a weakening of the earth's magnetic field due to a solar storm that hit the earth on June 22, 2015. The results have been published in the journal Physical Review Letters. An Indo-Japanese collaboration, this experiment is unique in that it can be used to study solar storms and space weather at distances up to two times the earth's radius, unlike satellite-based studies that can yield information only about what is happening in their vicinity.

A coronal mass ejection (CME) left the sun on June 21, 2015 and, along with two such others that left the sun on June 18 and 19, reached earth on June 22, 2015. Solar flares are often followed by CMEs which are nothing but giant clouds of plasma which also contain embedded magnetic fields. This CME was associated with a solar flare from the sunspot region 12371 near the central disc of the sun. This caused a solar storm and ensuing radio blackouts and Aurora Borealis. Analysing data from the GRAPES-3 muon-tracking telescope, scientists have inferred that while it lasted, the CME resulted in weakening the earth's magnetic field, allowing high energy cosmic rays to burst through.

This method can serve as a monitor of solar storms. "Galactic cosmic rays producing a muon burst were bent in the space surrounding the Earth over a volume that is 7 times that of the Earth, and hence they serve as a monitor of the solar storm over this volume. This is in stark contrast to the satellite based measurements that provide only in situ information." Says S.K. Gupta, Senior Professor and head of the GRAPES-3 experiment, based in Tata Institute of Fundamental Research, Mumbai, in an email to this correspondent.

Q.21-25. Read the following information carefully and answer the questions given below.

English alphabets have been arranged into five groups starting with a vowel and including the consonants just after it. Thus in the first group, the letters are A, B, C and D in the second group E, F, G, and H, and so on. In these groups, the first group has been assigned a numerical value 10, second 20 and so on with the last group having a value of 50. Each letter in a particular group will have the same value in the formation of words, and for calculating the value of the words the value of each letter in the word will be added. If in a group all the letters belong to same group then the value of the word can be obtained by multiplying the value of the group and number of letters, if the letters of the word are from different groups then the value of the first letter and any letter of that group will be same but the value of the letters after the first letter will be twice the value of the group. As an example: the value of 'CAB' is 30 (i.e.  $10 + 10 + 10$ ), because all the letters are of the same group, whose value is 10. While the value of 'BUT' will be  $10 + (50 \times 2) + (40 \times 2) = 190$ .

Q.41.(4)	Divison	Boys	Girls
	I	126	120
	II	84	61
	III	110	61
	Failed	80	33
	Not Appeared	20	25

$$84+61 = 145$$

Q.42.(1)  $84 : 33 = 28 : 11$

$$\frac{126 + 84 + 110}{420} \times 100$$

Q.43.(3)

$$= \frac{320}{420} \times 100 = 76 \frac{4}{21} \%$$

Q.44.(4)  $\frac{562}{720} \times 100 = 78\%$

Q.45.(2)  $\frac{120 - 110}{120} \times 100\%$

$$= 8 \frac{1}{3} \%$$

Q.46.(5) (I)  $\frac{5}{\sqrt{x}} = \sqrt{x}$

$$x = 5$$

(II)  $(y)^{10} - (5)^{10} = 0$

$$(y)^{10} = (5)^{10}$$

$$y = 5$$

$$x = y$$

Q.47.(1) From equation (I) and (II),

$$x = 353$$

$$y = -751$$

$$x > y$$

Q.48.(2) (I)  $3x^2 - 13x + 14 = 0$

$$3x^2 - 6x - 7x + 14 = 0$$

$$3x(x - 2) - 7(x - 2) = 0$$

$$x = 2, \frac{7}{3}$$

(II)  $y^2 - 4y - 3y + 12 = 0$

$$y(y - 4) - 3(y - 4) = 0$$

$$y = 3, 4$$

$$x < y$$

Q.49.(2) (I)  $15x = 196 + 17 + 15 + 3x$

$$12x = 228$$

$$x = 19$$

(II)  $5y = 228$

$$y = 45.6$$

$$x < y$$

Q.50.(5) (I)  $22x^2 - 96 = 256$

$$22x^2 = 352$$

$$x^2 = 16$$

$$x = \pm 4$$

(II)  $12y^2 + 343 = 391$

$$12y^2 = 48$$

$$y^2 = 4$$

$$y = \pm 2$$

So, the relationship can not be established.

Q.51.(3)

$$P = 25 \times \left( \frac{100}{12.5} \right)^2 \left( \frac{100}{12.5 + 300} \right)$$

$$P = 25 \times (8)^2 \times (0.32)$$

$$P = 25 \times 64 \times 0.32$$

$$P = 512$$

Q.52.(1) Let E be the event of getting 3 balls are of Red colour or 1 Yellow and 2 Blue balls

$$P(E) = \frac{{}^5C_3 + ({}^3C_1 \times {}^4C_2)}{{}^{12}C_3}$$

$$= \frac{\frac{5 \times 4}{2} + 3 \times \frac{4 \times 3}{2 \times 1}}{\frac{12 \times 11 \times 10}{3 \times 2}}$$

$$= \frac{10 + 18}{220} = \frac{7}{55}$$

Q.53.(1) Ratio of speed of Train, Car and Bus = 6: 5: 3

$$\text{Distance} = 2 \times 3 \times 40 = 240 \text{ km.}$$

$$\text{Speed of Bus} = \frac{240}{4} = 60 \text{ kmph}$$

Difference between speed of train and car

$$\frac{60}{3} \times 1 = 20 \text{ kmph}$$

Q.54.(4) S: G = 6: 1

After 10 years

S: R = 2: 1

Riya's age = 4 + 6 = 10

After 10 years Riya's age

= 10 + 10 = 20 years

1 = 20

2 = 40

Sheena's present age = 40 - 10 = 30 years

6 = 30 years

1 = 5 years

After 8 years Gita's age = 5 + 8 = 13 years

Q.55.(3) Let speed of the second train be x kmph

$$\frac{450 + 325}{(60 + x) \times \frac{5}{18}} = 18$$

$$775 = 300 + 5x$$

$$475 = 5x$$

$$x = \frac{475}{5} = 95$$

Q.56.(1) 2 men = 55

1 man = 110

5 women = 55

1 woman = 275

3 boys = 55

1 boy = 165

Required time to complete the work by 1 man,

1 woman, 1 boy

$$= \frac{1}{\frac{1}{110} + \frac{1}{275} + \frac{1}{165}}$$

$$= \frac{1}{\frac{1}{15} + \frac{1}{6} + \frac{1}{10}} = \frac{1650}{31} = 53 \frac{7}{31}$$

Q.57.(5) First year compound interest = 1600

Second year = 1600 64

Third year = 1600 64 64 2.56

Total compound interest = 4994.56

Q.58.(3) Let the total voting list = 100x

Voting = 90x

Valid Voting = 90x - 300

Winner got votes = 56x

Looser got votes = 90x - 300 - 56x

$$= 34x - 300$$

Now, 60x - 34x + 300 = 820

$$26x = 520$$

$$x = 20$$

$$\text{Valid votes} = 90 \times 20 - 300 = 1500$$

Q.59.(5)

$$1152 = 1600 \times \frac{90}{100} \times \frac{(100 - x)}{100}$$

$$(100 - x) = \frac{1152 \times 100 \times 100}{1600 \times 90}$$

$$(100 - x) = 80$$

$$x = 20$$

Q.60.(4) Let B takes x days to complete the work.

$$\frac{1}{x} + \frac{1}{x - 5} = \frac{9}{100}$$

$$\frac{x - 5 + x}{x(x - 5)} = \frac{9}{100}$$

$$9x^2 - 245x + 500 = 0$$

$$9x^2 - 225x - 20x + 500 = 0$$

$$9x(x - 25) - 20(x - 25) = 0$$

$$(9x - 20)(x - 25) = 0$$

$$x = 25, \frac{20}{9}$$

Q.61.(3) Total Expenditure on travelling

$$= 13550 \times 11 + 50000 + 30280 = \text{Rs.} 229330$$

$$\text{Expenditure on other} = \frac{229330}{51} \times 36$$

$$= \text{Rs.} 161880$$

Q.62.(1) Total area = 1000 × 2 + 1500 × 2 + 2000 × 3 = 11000

Total Expenditure on rent and maintenance

$$= 11000 \times 150 + 270000 = \text{Rs.} 1920000$$

$$\text{Total Expenditure} = \frac{1920000}{96} \times 360 = 7200000$$

$$= \text{Rs.} 7.2 \text{ lakh}$$

Q.63.(3)  $\frac{129-96}{129} \times 100 = 25.5813\% \approx 25\%$

Q.64.(5) Total Expenditure =  $\frac{9.6}{36} \times 360 = 96 \text{ Cr.}$

Profit =  $150 - 96 = \text{Rs.} 54 \text{ Cr.}$

Profit Percent =  $\frac{54}{96} \times 100 = 56.25 \approx 56\%$

Q.65.(4) Profit =  $150 - 96 = \text{Rs.} 54$
CSR = 5% of 54 = Rs.2.7 cr

Q.66.(2) Share amount =  $\frac{54-2.7}{9} \times 4 = \text{Rs.} 22.8 \text{ (Cr.)}$
 $\times 3 - 3, \times 3 - 3, \times 3 - 3, \times 3 - 3, \times 3 - 3$
